Homelessness – The Facts

How many?
According to UN Habitat, 1.1 billion people live in inadequate housing in urban areas – and at least 100 million have no housing whatsoever. The number is expected to increase to 1.6 billion by 2025. As many as 4.5 million Europeans and 3.5 million US citizens experience homelessness every year.

Who are they?
- 25% are Aboriginal
- 23.7% are women
- 18.4% are youth

Across the rich nations more women, youth and families are becoming homeless. This chart shows the breakdown of the 230,000 Canadians who experience homelessness in a year.

Why are they homeless?
- Homelessness has complex roots.
- The chart outlines the major reasons in Australia.[3]

Unaffordable housing
- House Price-to-Income Ratio (2016, 2010/10/10)
- House prices are growing faster than incomes in many countries.
- In 2016, 2010 as the base year, house prices in 2016 outstriped incomes by 33% in New Zealand, 13% in the UK and almost 10% in Australia.

Unaffordable housing

- For 70% of the world’s city dwellers the median house price is 5 times the annual household income, well above the recommended ratio of 3 times. Just 13% of global cities have affordable housing of any kind.[4]
- From 2013-13, 117 million London, UK, home sold for 7 times the city’s average annual salary. Today the figure is 12 times.[5]
- In 2010 Western Canada pays more than 30% of their income on rent.[6]
- In 4 families in the US spend over 70% of their income on rent and utilities.[7]
- There are 35,000 people on the waiting list for public housing in the Australian state of Victoria. Less than 1% of their private rental properties in and around Melbourne are affordable for single parents on low incomes.[8]

Why are they homeless?

- Homelessness has complex roots.
- The chart outlines the major reasons in Australia.[3]

Shelter saves money
- In Canada, every $10 spent on housing and support for the chronically homeless results in $31.72 savings on healthcare, social support, housing and the criminal justice system.[9]

Austrian study found that preventing young people from becoming homeless by strengthening school and youth services at a community level could save $500 million a year.[10]

Public Health Emergency
- Homeless people are 2-5 times more likely to die prematurely than the general population.
- Rates of tuberculosis infection are 26 times higher; rates of depression are 7 times higher.
- With the homeless are 4 times more likely to access emergency hospital services at a cost of about $85 million (56% of it) a year.
- In the US, the average cost to society by the homeless is 4 times that of the overall population.

Violence, disasters & development
- In 2015, 275 million people in 127 countries were forced to flee their homes because of conflict, violence and disasters – more than the total populations of New York, London, Paris and Cairo combined.[11]

Women
- Women fleeing violence, often accompanied by children, are a significant part of the hidden homeless, either moving between homes, shelters and friends or relatives.
- 40-50% of homeless people are women and nearly 60% of people seeking specialist homelessness services are female.[12]
- More than 50% of homeless women have suffered physical or sexual abuse, exposing them to a leading cause of their homelessness.[13]
- Homeless women between 18-44 are 10 times more likely to die prematurely than women of the same age in the general population.[14]

Race
- Native Canadians are 10 times more likely than non-Indigenous to end up in an emergency shelter. Nearly 1 in 7 is not a native person who lives or is removable.[15]
- All York Americans make up 12% of the US population but nearly 40% of the people in homeless shelters.
- About 1 in 3 Black women women in the US are arrested at some point in their lives. For white women the figure is 1 in 15.[16]
- Aboriginal people have 14 times the rate of homelessness of non-Indigenous Australians.[17]

Youth
- Homeless youth make up a growing portion of the homeless.
- Children living on the streets are especially vulnerable to victimization, exploitation and abuse.
- 1.5 million homeless are homeless each year in the US, in the UK over 88,000 youth were homeless in 2014, while in Canada 55,000 youth are homeless annually.[18]
- Half of homeless kids are from middle and upper-income families. On average they leave home at age 15. More than 70% have suffered some form of abuse.[19]
- There are an estimated 155 million street kids in India.
- In the US, UK and Canada 20-40% of homeless teens identify as LGBT+.

I CAN HEAR IT!
THE SOUND OF... MISOGYNISTIC TRASH!
1) Last week, a Catholic nun was not allowed to take a medical entrance examination, the All-India Pre-Medical Entrance Test (AIPMT). She was wearing her religious ‘habit’, a nun's veil and a cross around her neck. They did not stop Sister Seba for religious reasons. Most people respect Catholic nuns in Kerala. But she couldn’t take the exam because a lot of other people have been cheating.

2) They introduced a dress code because some people, not the nun, had secretly taken important papers into the exam. They really wanted to pass the entrance exams for the top medical college. Earlier last week, the Kerala High Court allowed two Muslim girls to wear a headscarf and dresses with full sleeves for the exam – but only if one of the people responsible could ‘frisk’ them (search their body and clothes) if necessary.

3) There were big problems with the exam. People said some students found out the questions before the exam. And that students had secretly taken electronic equipment into the exam so they could cheat. So the Education Board cancelled the examinations after they happened. They then told candidates that they must not wear anything like ‘belts, caps, scarves, etc’ in the examination hall. The Supreme Court said students were not allowed to wear a hijab. They said ‘your faith won’t disappear’ if you don’t wear a hijab on one day.

4) We know it is difficult for them to organize exams to stop students cheating. But they could be more understanding. Sister Seba, the nun, asked if she could sit in a separate, private room to take her exams but they said no. So she did not take the exam. She wasted a whole year. So did the Muslim women in hijabs.
5: DIY gap-fill

Technology success stories: If we want technology, low and high, to make a difference, it needs to be appropriate, and cheap enough
a) Only connect  Many families of refugees lose contact because they cannot find, or communicate with, each other. REFUNITE is a new online platform that offers help. It mainly works with mobile texts. People looking for others can register for free. They have a database of 400,000 people. It is easy to use, and people can use Amharic, English, French, Somali, Sudanese, Arabic and Swahili languages. It has helped some people meet already.

b) Fruits of the forest  Picking coffee, protecting the forest. Peruvian farmers grow cash crops eg. bananas, coffee and yucca, together with local trees. This helps protect the plants and stops soil erosion. This is very different from the ‘slash-and-burn’ farming they used before for coffee – this destroyed some of the mountainsides. They use organic manure and pest management. And the farmers increased production by 33 per cent in one year.

c) Hole in the wall  The idea behind this Indian organization is ‘Minimally Invasive Education’. They put computer terminals with internet access in a hole in a specially constructed wall in areas of poorer children. The children have not been to school much. They discover how to use the computer, and help each other. And they are very proud of teaching themselves and their new skills.

d) To market – using gravity  The monsoon season used to be very difficult for hill farmers in Nepal. The hills get very dangerous and slippery. People have to choose: they can take goods to market and they could die as it is so dangerous; or they can watch the food as it rots and goes to waste. Then they started using a very clever trolley on steel wires. This has made a big difference. The full trolley goes down - the weight of what is in it pulls it down. At the same time, the empty one is pulled up ready to put more goods in. It’s simply mechanical, and does not need any electricity.
Example: ‘small words’ (articles / prepositions …)

b) Fruits of the forest  Picking coffee, protecting 1/…. forest. Peruvian farmers grow cash crops eg. bananas, coffee 2/…. yucca, together 3/…. local trees. This helps protect 4/…. plants 5/…. stops soil erosion. This is very different from 6/…. ‘slash-and-burn’ farming they used before 7/…. coffee – this destroyed some of the mountainsides. They use organic manure and pest management. And the farmers increased production by 33 per cent in one year.

Add these ‘small words’: with / for / the x 3 / and x2
Example: verbs

c) Hole in the wall The idea behind this Indian organization 1/…. ‘Minimally Invasive Education’. They 2/…. computer terminals with internet access in a hole in a specially constructed wall in areas of poorer children. The children 3/…. to school much. They 4/…. how to use the computer, and 5/…. each other. And they are very proud of teaching themselves and their new skills.

Add these verbs – in the correct tense: discover / is / help / put / be (negative)
